ANNUAL SCHOOL SCIENCE SHOW TO OUTLINE RADIO'S HISTORY

Governor Dummer's fifth annual Science Show, presented by the members of the physics and chemistry classes, will be given in the Lang Gymnasium at 8 P. M., Saturday, March 5.

Under the direction of Mr. L. R. Kirk of the science department, the history of the development of the radio will be shown by a series of experiments, covering the growth of radio from Hertz's Leyden jar experiments to the perfection of the modern vacuum tube.

Early phases of the radio will be shown by demonstrations based on Sir Oliver Lodge's syntonic jars, James Clerk Maxwell's electromagnetic theory of light, and Branly's invention of the coherer.

The Edison effect, Thomas A. Edison's contribution to the development of the vacuum tube, will be shown, and another group of experiments will be based on Fleming's invention of the thermionic valve, or the diode.

Bringing the history up to recent years, demonstrations will show the work of De Forest and Armstrong who added the grid to the Fleming valve, making possible the modern vacuum tube. Michael Pupin's tuning patents and Heising's work on modulations in radio telephony will be the basis for other units of apparatus.

More than a dozen pieces of apparatus are now under construction in the physics laboratory. Among the boys busy preparing for the show are: Leonard Poor, Niles Perkins, Leonard Ellis, David Hunter, Benjamin Joy, Thomas Johnson, Hugh Byfield, and William MacDonald.

OLANDER AND SKINNER WIN TIME CURRENT AFFAIRS TEST

The current events test sponsored by Time magazine was given at Governor Dummer on January 29. Sixty-three boys and five masters took the test.

Mr. Nash led the faculty with a score of 88, while Robert Olander and George Skinner headed the boys' groups with grades of 78 and 58 respectively. Time has presented a book to each of the winners.

WEEK-END OF WINTER SPORTS AT JACKSON, N. H. ANNOUNCED

Headmaster Eames has announced that the plans for the school's second annual trip to New Hampshire for skiing have been completed. Special cars will be ready to leave the Newburyport railroad station at 8:45 A. M., Sunday, March 6. As last year, a snow-train ski-car will also be attached to the train, completely stocked with skiing equipment. Luncheon will be served on the train.

The train will arrive at Intervale, New Hampshire, at noon, and busses will carry the school from there to the Eagle Mountain House at Jackson, which has been reserved to accommodate the entire group.

It is planned that skiing will start soon after one o'clock. Benjamin Podmaniczky, Sándor's brother, professional skier of the White Mountain Ski Runners, will be the school's guest and will give group skiing instruction.

Movies will be shown at the hotel Sunday evening after supper.

All of Monday will be devoted to skiing and other snow sports, and the return to school will be made in the evening, the train arriving at Newburyport at about 10 P. M.

As was arranged last year, when the school spent a week-end at Waterville Valley, New Hampshire, the entire group will be the guests of the school at the hotel, and boys electing to make the trip will be required to pay only a special low railroad fare to cover the cost of the ski train.

GOVERNOR DUMMER GLEE CLUB TO SING AT MONTCLAIR, N. J.

Plans for the school glee club's trip to Montclair, New Jersey, for a concert sponsored by parents of Governor Dummer boys, have been completed.

The glee club group will leave school on March 17, the day school closes for the spring vacation, and the concert will be given in the auditorium of the Upper Montclair Women's Club that evening.

Miss Margaret Aue, 'cellist, will have a part in the program.

The concert will be followed by a dance for the members of the club.

BANCROFT GLEE CLUB JOINS ACADEMY SINGERS IN CONCERT

On Saturday, March 19, the combined glee clubs of the Bancroft School for Girls in Worcester and of Governor Dummer gave a concert in the Lang Gymnasium.

The Bancroft girls arrived in time for a rehearsal before dinner.

Among the Bancroft club's songs which were particularly popular with the audience were Dichmont's Ma Little Banjo and The Flowers o' the Forest, an old Scotch air.

The Academy club was at its height in its beautifully controlled singing of Arcadelt's Ave Maria and May Now Thy Spirit by Schuetky.

Following the concert, dancing was enjoyed in the New Building by the members of the two clubs. Music was provided by an orchestra from the University of New Hampshire.

Alumni Notes

During the first week of February, many of the class of 1937 returned to school after finishing their examinations in college. Those returning were: Roger Conant, Woodbury Smith, and Donald Gibbs from Williams; Dana Jones, Don Kirkpatrick, and Stan James from Bowdoin; Joe Hoague and Ed Hastings from Colgate; Dick Schanzle from Wesleyan; Dick Bartlett from M. I. T.

* * *

Martin Busch, '36, is wrestling in the 135-pound class as a member of the Williams varsity wrestling squad.

* * *

Roger Conant, '37, is playing on the Williams freshman hockey team.

William Georgi, '35, is singing second bass in the Williams Glee Club.

PAINTINGS BY MR. SAM SARGENT ON DISPLAY IN NEW BUILDING

An exhibition of oil paintings by Mr. Sam Sargent is now on display in the dining room. Among the paintings are several of Vermont scenes, and of historic buildings in this vicinity. A picture of "Lord" Timothy Dexter's house in Newburyport and one of the Mansion House at Governor Dummer have excited considerable interest. A winter scene of the Mill River Bridge has proven one of the most popular paintings in the exhibit.

Mr. Sargent is a Newburyport painter, has taught in Boston art schools, and is Director of the Merrimac Valley Art Association.

MR. W. C. FOWLE GOES TO HOTCHKISS

Mr. William C. Fowle, who will be remembered by old boys as a master here a few years ago, has been appointed head of the physical education department and football coach at Hotchkiss School. Since leaving Governor Dummer in 1935, Mr. Fowle has been an instructor in physical education and coach of freshman football at Williams.

THE ARCHON is glad to announce that two members of the Editorial Staff have been promoted to Co-Editors: Thomas C. Collins of Worcester and George L. Hubbell, 3d, of Garden City, New York.

DEAN MCGANN, REV. G. L. CADIGAN,
DR. J. D. ALLEN, VESPERS SPEAKERS

On February 6, Honorary Dean John Moore McGann of Christ Cathedral in Springfield, Mass., spoke at Vespers. Using as his text the verse: "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man," Dean McGann pointed out that these are the lines along which a person can best grow up.

He said that wisdom is something more than facts learned from books: it is the ability to make wise choices. "This ability," said Dean McGann, "can be obtained by using the lives of men we admire as models for our lives."

Physical growth will come of its own accord, but it can be made more effective if it is helped along by regular exercise. A healthy, strong body decreases the number of spiritual problems which may arise.

More spiritual help can be derived from a quiet period of thought than from active entreaties to God. Dean McGann pointed out that if a person has much of the favor of God, his favor with man will come automatically.

Rev. George L. Cadigan

The Reverend George L. Cadigan, rector of Grace Church in Brunswick, Maine, was the Vespers speaker on February 13. Mr. Cadigan emphasized the importance of upholding our Christian faith, and said that, "To love God is to love our fellow men."

He said that failing faith might be improved by reading Christian biography. As an example of such a biography, he told the story of the life of Father Damien, a great missionary.

He was a man who spent many years among the lepers of the South Sea islands, and who finally gave his life in that work. With such a man as an inspiration, Mr. Cadigan said, faith is easier to uphold.

Dr. Joseph Dana Allen

Dr. Joseph D. Allen, Headmaster of the Poly Prep C. D. S. of Brooklyn, was the Vespers speaker on February 20.

Dr. Allen took the Fifteenth Psalm as the subject of his talk, pointing out that although this psalm was written three thousand years ago, it is a gentleman's code suitable for us to follow today. David wrote it as a young man, and he gave voice to the gallantry and courage which have always won victories in all endeavors throughout the centuries. A boy like David would be an ideal schoolboy today.

In our present democracy, Dr. Allen said, we must have an aristocracy, not of privilege, but of youths with the qualities of responsibility and fearlessness which David had.

STUDY HARD NOW

This Winter term is a big one from the athletic point of view, but studies must not be forgotten. Work seems a little harder and a little more plentiful at this time of year, but there is adequate time in which to do it.

From now until the Spring vacation is a good time for the serious-minded boy to show what he can really do in a scholastic way. Plenty of plugging and concentration can work wonders with an average, so why not resolve to settle down and get something accomplished?

A few extra minutes for study can be worked into many places in the day's program without much effort, and these little periods of time spent in preparation of assignments are what distinguish the good student from the mediocre one.

For the seniors especially this plan is advisable. The time is not far off when grades go to the colleges which the seniors have chosen to attend. A few points may be the deciding factor between being admitted and not being accepted.

With so many advantages to be derived from forming good habits of study, is it not logical that this is the wise thing to do?

THE SCIENCE SHOW

Every year during the Winter term, the chemistry and the physics classes present a science show with the aid and supervision of Mr. Kirk of the faculty. The students may not realize the work that goes into putting on such a show, and may not appreciate the elaborate array of experiments and demonstrations that they see.

The preparation for this show begins almost at the opening of school, and many of the boys spend most of their spare time building the apparatus and preparing the different exhibits. The models of the machines and the materials for the chemical experiments actually work, and some of these are made and arranged at great expense.

The interest of people from outside the school is illustrated by the attendance of science classes from other schools, and of people from Boston. At the show last year, students from Exeter and Andover, and men from Harvard and M. I. T. voiced their approval and amazement over the variety and the excellent execution of the experiments.

Since so many people have acclaimed this show as one of the outstanding events of the year, the students should keep these facts in mind when they see the array of exhibits.

THE GLEE CLUB

Governor Dummer Academy's glee club is one of the biggest and most popular organizations in the school. Membership in it is the goal of most of the boys in the school, with ninety boys taking voice trials at the beginning of the year.

In 1931 Mr. Sager joined the faculty and took over the reins of the glee club. There were only twenty-five boys in the club that year. Only two years later the club won a prize in competition with several school glee clubs. This year there are fifty-five members of our glee club.

The glee club symbolizes a combination of learning and entertainment. Many of the boys like to sing and the club gives them this opportunity. Much of the music sung by the club is by serious composers such as Bach, Handel, and Beethoven.

The glee club also gives rise to several social occasions. It has two or three joint concerts with girls' schools every year and this year the club is going to sing in Montclair, New Jersey, on the day school closes for spring vacation.

THEOPHILUS PARSONS, CLASS OF 1765

By THEODORE BARRY

When Daniel Webster, a young law student in Boston, wrote of Theophilus Parsons as a man with "no fondness for public life", he was writing of a man who had already contributed more to the people living under the new United States government than many a man who has made high public position his life's goal. Parsons had recently been appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, thereby receiving the highest honor with which the Commonwealth could reward the unique services of an able lawyer, the man who had framed his state's constitution and had effected Massachusetts' acceptance of the new federal constitution. He was to become a Fellow of Harvard College, a Trustee of Dummer Academy, and the first president of the Boston Athenaeum—offices which he fulfilled notably in the public interest.

Webster was mistaken about Parsons' brown hair—it was iron gray, and there was not much of it—but he epitomized the man accurately by describing his mind as strong and vigorous, and "cultivated by habits of the most intense application". Years later, when an elderly woman of Byfield was asked what she remembered about Theophilus Parsons when he was a student at the Dummer School, she said that she could not remember much "except that he was always playing harder or studying harder than any other boy—and," she added, "which of these two he did the hardest, I do not know."

It is probable that Theophilus Parsons was one of the twenty-eight boys who were sitting on the benches of the little new schoolhouse when Samuel Moody met his first class on a

THEOPHILUS PARSONS

March day in 1763. At any rate, he was born in Byfield in 1750 and prepared for college under that eccentric and inspiring first Master, graduating from the school in 1765. He then entered Harvard and graduated in 1769.

Throughout his life Parsons liked to tell a string of anecdotes about Master Moody, and it is our loss that he was a poor correspondent, leaving behind him few written records of his personal life in which his impressions of his first great teacher might have been preserved. He does tell us that Master Moody's maxim, Crede quod possis, et potes, inculcated by constant repetition and the birch switch, was a teaching that stuck. Much of his success, he thought, was due to his early assimilation of this idea.

After leaving Harvard, Parsons taught school at Falmouth (as Portland, Maine, was then named), and studied law on the side. He was admitted to practice in 1774, but in the following year Falmouth was razed by Graves' British squadron which sailed up from Boston, and the discouraged young lawyer returned home. This was the luckiest thing he ever did, for he found living in his father's house at Byfield the most learned lawyer of the day, Judge Edmund Trowbridge. Trowbridge had Tory sympathies, and he was biding his time quietly in Byfield during those turbulent days when the colonies were putting

"Theophilus Parsons is now about 55 years old. His hair is brown, and his complexion not light. His face is not marked by any striking feature, if we except his eyes . . . He wears a blue coat and breeches, worsted hose, a brown wig, with a cocked hat. He has a penetrating eye of an indescribable color . . . His mind is strong, direct, prompt, and vigorous, cultivated by habits of the most intense application . . . He has no fondness for public life, and is satisfied with standing where he is, at the head of his profession."

—Daniel Webster's Journal, 1804

More Briefly

Mr. Calvin Eldred has presented to the Library a valuable old biography of Theophilus Parsons. This gift has made possible the article on Parsons in this issue, and the cut used is made from the frontispiece of the book. The article itself is an expansion of the notes which Mr. Eldred compiled, and the staff of THE ARCHON wants to express its appreciation for Mr. Eldred's continued interest and assistance.

* * *

Sunday afternoons during the past few weeks have been marked by scientific movies in the Library. On February 6, the titles were Steam Power and Refrigeration. On February 13, two reels of pictures were shown on Glass Blowing, after which Mr. Joseph Rossette, a laboratory glass blower, gave a demonstration for the boys in the science classes.

* * *

Dean B. Alden Thresher of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology spoke to the boys at an evening meeting a few weeks ago, explaining the preparation necessary to enter M. I. T.

* * *

Down Beat, the monthly magazine of swing musicians, ran a photograph by Leonard Poor in its last issue. The picture is a candid camera shot of Glenn Miller playing the trombone. This photograph won honorable mention in the Camera Club's recent candid camera contest.

* * *

Mr. James Duncan Phillips has presented to the school library the American Statesmen series of biographies, and the works of John Fiske. Both sets are bound in red leather.

* * *

Mr. Perlle Fallon, father of Robert Fallon, '37, has presented to the school a framed Medici reproduction of Rembrandt's painting, The Holy Family. The picture has been hung in the Infirmary in honor of Mrs. Lucy Fallon, Robert's grandmother.

* * *

Dr. Edward S. Noyes, Chairman of the Board of Admissions at Yale, visited the school on February 18 and talked with the boys who wish to enter Yale next year.

* * *

asunder the ties that bound them to the mother country. And so young Parsons met the second of the great teachers whose teachings were a basis for his success. He immediately renewed his study of law under Trowbridge whose fine library was a godsend to Parsons at a time when law books had to be imported from England.

It was evidently Trowbridge who taught Parsons to read as Macaulay recommended half a century later—by the page, rapidly and accurately. Parsons formed the habit of making complete manuscript notes of the material he studied, fearing that he might never again have access to as complete a law library as Judge Trowbridge's.

Years later he tried a case in Hartford for the State of Connecticut, and his opponent was Alexander Hamilton. The two lawyers had dinner together after the trial, and Hamilton expressed his surprise that Parsons had so accurately anticipated a certain nice point of law. Parsons explained that he had come across the point years earlier. "I found the books in Judge Trowbridge's library," he said, "and I made a brief of the authorities." Moody's maxim and the Judge's teaching trained him to learn his profession in this way.

Parsons must have studied with all of the "intense concentration" which Daniel Webster mentioned, for his manuscript notes are voluminous enough to fill a shelf of large books.

He started a law practice in Newburyport, and one of the young men who studied in his office was Rufus King, a man much like himself, who was also a graduate of the Dummer School and of Harvard.

During this period, Parsons was asked to draw up an act for incorporating the Dummer School into the Academy which it is today—in order that such a legislation might "put it beyond the power of a particular parish to frustrate the benevolent design of the donor." In 1782 the Legislature of Massachusetts passed such an act of incorporation, and the Academy was born under the names of the famous men who signed the document—Governor John Hancock; Nathaniel Gorham, Speaker of the House; and President Samuel Adams of the Senate.

The Dummer School came of age, and the new Academy's first Trustees were men whose first names suggest that the school's destiny was indeed "beyond the power of a particular parish to frustrate"—Theophilus Bradbury and Theophilus Parsons.

GOVERNORS DEFEAT BROOKS AS POOR AND MUNRO SCORE

On February 16, the Governor Dummer hockey team defeated Brooks School in a 2 to 1 victory on their home ice.

The game opened with both teams showing lots of scrap and determination. After the first few minutes of play, the Governors proved to be the more aggressive, and were for the most part playing in Brooks territory.

The second period was much the same story. Near the end of the period Captain Len Poor scored the Governors' first goal, by a clever shot from in front of the Brooks cage.

The third period began with a renewed effort by both teams. Ted Munro, with an assist from Gordon Ellis, scored the second goal for the Governors soon after the period opened. Brooks, in a final drive, skated down the ice and broke through our lines, thus scoring their only goal. The game ended 2 to 1 for the Governors.

Ted Lacey turned in a fine game as goalie, with both Gordon Ellis and Len Poor playing splendid offensive hockey.

HARVARD FRESHMEN RESERVES DOWN SCHOOL WRESTLERS, 25-15

On Wednesday, February 16, the Harvard Freshman Reserves wrestling team came to South Byfield for a meet, winning 25 to 15.

Norman Pitcairn threw his man neatly in the 126-pound class with a half-nelson in 2:56.

Bill Cochran, a recent addition to the wrestling team, fought hard for seven minutes and lost on a referee's decision.

Captain Tom Tenney kept his record clear by pinning his man easily with a half-nelson and a crotch hold in 1:25.

Hugh Byfield, wrestling in the heavyweight class, had his man down continually, but couldn't seem to pin him, but won a referee's decision.

118-lb.: Freed (H) threw Borkowski (GD), with half-nelson. 6:40.

126-lb.: Pitcairn (GD) threw Gaebler (H), with half-nelson. 2:56.

135-lb.: Grindell (H) threw Faurot (H), with half-nelson and crotch. 1:56.

145-lb.: Phillippi (H) threw Ferris (GD), with a chancery and bar hold. 1:02.

155-lb.: Haitman (H) defeated Cochran (GD), referee's decision.

165-lb.: Captain Tenney (GD) threw Moræ (H), with half-nelson and crotch hold. 1:25.

175-lb.: Smith (H) threw Henrich (GD), with half-nelson. 5:42.

Heavy: Byfield (GD) defeated Eliot (H), referee's decision.

BASKETBALL TEAM TRIUMPHS OVER AUSTIN-CATE ACADEMY

On Wednesday, February 2, the Governor Dummer basketball team defeated Austin-Cate Academy, 44 to 26, at South Byfield. The visitors had a team of tall men who held the Governors' smaller team in check during the first few minutes of play.

During the second quarter the boys settled down to the task of scoring points, and by half-time the score was 20 to 15 in favor of the Governors.

As the third quarter opened, the shots began to drop. Mike Lawler and Captain Russ Simons were popping baskets from the sides of the court, and Ed Warner and Don Mortimer were taking balls off the backboard, and passing them out for more shots. Johnny Koslowski stayed at the center line and fed the ball to Simons and Lawler.

RELAY TEAMS WIN AND PLACE IN EASTERN SEABOARD MEET

Accompanied by Mr. Richard Wickenden and Mr. Daniel Jennings, the winter track squad went to Boston on Saturday, February 12. The Governors competed in the Eastern Seaboard Interscholastic Relay Carnival and were paired with the Browne and Nichols School in Class C. Also in this class were Tabor Academy, Moses Brown, and Roxbury Latin. The one-lap relay of 160 yards for each man was won by Browne and Nichols in 1:12.2 over the Governors, who ran it in 1:12.8. The complete event was won by Moses Brown in 1:11. Jack Miller, Roland Noble, Alan Bullwinkle, and Dave Huggins made up the one-lap relay team.

The Governors very handily won the two-lap relay, 320 yards per man, in a time of 2:34.8 over Browne and Nichols. This victory was due to the efforts of Captain Jack Bell who came from behind to overtake his man and set up a considerable lead. The time, however, fell under the other three schools which were all under 2:34. This second relay team included Jack Miller, Captain Jack Bell, Stewart Munroe, and Alan Bullwinkle.

TENNEY CONTINUES TO WIN IN MEET AT ROXBURY LATIN

On February 9, the Governor Dummer wrestling team travelled to West Roxbury for a meet with the Roxbury Latin School. The meet was close, with the final score being in doubt until the last match. Roxbury finally won, 23 to 13.

The hardest fought match of the day was between Borkowski, our German exchange student, and Donahue of Roxbury. Sig refused to be pinned, although his opponent held him in a pinning hold for more than three minutes. The decision went to the Roxbury man.

Captain Tom Tenney's match with Morse proved to be almost a foot race. After the first few minutes, with neither of the men hitting the canvas, Tenney was down in the referee's position. Tom was soon out from under his man, however, and pinned him with a half-nelson and crotch hold.

135-lb.: Jones (RL) pinned Quirk (GD), with a half-nelson. 2:29.

135-lb.: Whittemore (RL) pinned Podmaniczky (GD), with a cradle. 2:45.

145-lb.: Sullivan (RL) pinned Ferris (GD), with a half-nelson and a crotch hold. 5:14.

145-lb.: Bunker (RL) defeated Faurot (GD), decision.

155-lb.: Welch (RL) pinned Rogers (GD), with a half-nelson and crotch hold. 3:39.

165-lb.: Captain Tenney (GD) pinned Morse (H), with a half-nelson. 6:31.

175-lb.: Mason (RL) pinned Henrich (GD), with a half-nelson and crotch hold. :53.

Unlimited: Byfield (GD) defeated Garrick (RL), decision.

LAWLER STARS ON COURT IN VICTORY OVER HUNTINGTON

On February 16 the Governor Dummer varsity basketball team went to Boston to play the Huntington School. A fast and rough game ended in a victory of 47 to 34 for the Governors.

Russ Simons and John Koslowski started on the defense with Mike Lawler and Don Mortimer on the offense. The team's fast break was consistently successful. At the half the score was 19 to 9.

GOVERNORS REGAIN WINNING FORM OVER KIMBALL UNION

On February 19, the Governor Dummer basketball team trounced Kimball Union, 49 to 31.

After a somewhat shaky start the Governors settled down and opened an amazing attack which completely baffled their opponents.

Ed Warner did most of the scoring for the Governors in the first period, but despite his efforts the quarter ended with Kimball Union in the lead, 12 to 8.

Everybody on the team scored in the third period, and a series of score-producing plays was exhibited in a fine manner by the Governor Dummer quintet.

The last period was a duplicate of the third, and as the final whistle blew the Governors were ahead 49 to 31.

John Koslowski was the high scorer for the Governors, collecting 19 points.

RESERVE HOCKEY TEAM TIES WITH EXETER ALL-CLUB TEAM

On February 12, the Governor Dummer second hockey team, reinforced by the first squad reserves, went to Exeter to play the All-Club team. The game was an overtime and well played, with the final score 1 to 1.

During the first part of the first period, the two teams played fast hockey, but neither was able to score. With only two minutes to go, Bob Lyle scored our only goal from in front of the Exeter cage.

In the third period the Governors were holding their own as a result of the fine playing of Lyle and Ed Sheffield, but near the close of the period, Surman of Exeter tied the score after evading our defense.

The overtime period was marked by fast playing on both sides, but neither team could break loose for a score.

HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS THAYER AS MUNRO SCORES IN OVERTIME

On February 12, the Governor Dummer hockey team defeated Thayer Academy, 2 to 1, at South Byfield. The teams were evenly matched, and the game was forced into an overtime when the score was tied at the end of the regular three periods.

The play during the first period was fast, with the puck in the Thayer territory most of the time.

In the second period, which was also marked by the Governors' offensive tactics, John Ross evened the count with a goal, and the score remained tied for the rest of this period and during the third one.

The overtime was full of fast offensive play by both teams, and Ted Munro finally slipped the winning score by the opposing goalie.

In addition to the excellent play of Captain Poor, Gordon Tooley, Dick Page, and Phil Lees in the line, the stellar play of Gordon Ellis on the defense was outstanding.

GOVERNORS OVERWHELM DOVER HOCKEY TEAM BY 6 TO 1 SCORE

On February 5, the Governor Dummer hockey team invaded the Dover, New Hampshire, High School rink, and emerged victorious by the top-heavy count of 6 to 1.

Phil Lees tallied the Governors' first goal early in the first period on a pass from Tooley. The play throughout the rest of that period was fairly even.

The Governors romped in the second period, sending the puck into the cords three times. The first goal in that period was scored after a solo dash by Tooley. Dick Page dented the twine with the game's third score on an accurate pass from Phil Lees. That period's third marker was made by Captain Len Poor after Johnny Ross had captured the puck on a face-off. Gitchier tallied Dover's first and only goal on a flip from Shaheen.

Page laid a good pass on Munro's stick at the start of the final period, and Ted slammed the puck in for the fifth score. Captain Poor beat the goalie with the final score after a lonesome dash down the sideline.

MERRITT ROMPS FOR TWELVE POINTS IN NEWBURYPORT WIN

On Friday, February 4, the Lieutenants won a thrilling basketball game from a team from Newburyport High School, 24 to 23, played at South Byfield.

The home team was out-played during the first quarter, and the score was 6 to 2 in favor of Newburyport at the end of this session.

Led by Brooks Merritt, the boys tried to reduce Newburyport's lead but at the half-way mark the score was 14 to 10, still in the visitors' favor.

During the final period, the score was evened, only to have Newburyport drop one in to make the score 23 to 22 with less than a minute to play. At this opportune moment Merritt looped one in from under the basket to make the final count 24 to 23 in favor of the Academy team.

FIVE LOSES TO HARVARD FROSH IN GAME PLAYED AT CAMBRIDGE

On February 18, the Governor Dummer basketball team traveled to Cambridge and lost to the Harvard Freshmen, 55 to 30. The team was outplayed by the fast-breaking collegians, and in spite of high scoring by Captain Russ Simons and Mike Lawler, they could not stop the steady stream of shots through their hoop.

Harvard opened the scoring early in the contest, but Lawler tallied two to give the Governors a lead. Harvard followed with three quick baskets and a free toss.

In the second quarter the Crimson threw fifteen points while holding the Governors to nine, and the half-time score was 24 to 13.

The third and fourth quarters were marked by a steady flow of Harvard substitutes who all were as good as the starting five. The Governors put on a spurt during the last quarter, but were unable to offset their opponents' lead. The game ended with the score 55 to 30.

BASKETBALL LIEUTENANTS LOSE TO IPSWICH HIGH SCHOOL, 25-19

On February 8, the Governor Dummer second basketball team went to Ipswich to play the Ipswich High School second team. Although the Lieutenants lost, 25 to 19, the game was a good one.

The last quarter was strongly played, with Ipswich dropping more shots than the Lieutenants. During this period John Barrows' guarding was outstanding. Toward the end of the game, Jack Eshelman sank three long shots in succession, but this was not enough to offset the Ipswich boys' big lead.

ACADEMY HOCKEY PLAYERS LOSE CLOSE 3 - 2 GAME TO AMESBURY

On February 9, the Governor Dummer hockey team lost a game to the Amesbury High School team, 3 to 2, at South Byfield. As a result of the warm weather, the ice was soft, and the playing suffered, but the teams were evenly matched, and the game was a close one.

The opponents scored first when Roy sent the puck home in the opening minutes. There was no more scoring in this period, with the puck changing hands often, but with neither team being able to outwit the opposing goalie.

Early in the next period, Ralph Bean, the Governors' defense man, skated down the boards, evaded the Amesbury defense, and scored unassisted. Tessman of Amesbury soon matched this with a solo dash down the center of the ice. Ted Munro, the Governors' wing, tied the score when he beat the Amesbury goalie after he had intercepted a pass.

The winning score came after only seven seconds had passed in the third period. Roy of Amesbury shot the puck from behind his own blue line and the elusive disc bounced past Goalie Rolfe. During the rest of the game, the Governors peppered the opposing net with shots, but were unable to slip in another score.

MALDEN HIGH SCHOOL TOO STRONG FOR GOVERNOR DUMMER SKATERS

On February 11, the Governor Dummer hockey team lost to Malden High School, 5 to 2, at South Byfield. The game was not as one-sided as the score sounds.

The ice was hard and smooth, and for the first time the team had a chance to show its speed and ability on a good surface. The opening line started off with some fast offensive play, and after a few minutes, a new line was put in.

After a pass from Phil Lees, Gordon Tooley skated down the boards and slipped the puck in for the first score. The Medford team evened the count almost immediately with a goal by Hanifan. Near the end of the period,

Tooley lifted a high shot from center ice and narrowly missed a score.

After the opening of the second period, Ralph Bean pulled the puck from under an opponent's stick, and skating down from his defense post, scored the Governors' second tally unassisted.

The score remained 2 to 1 in favor of the Governors, and their opponents put on a burst of speed in an attempt to even the score. Goalie Rolfe stopped six long hard shots before one slipped by him for Malden's second score. Just before the end of the second period, Ross rushed the Malden goal and whipped one toward the cage which the goalie stopped. He picked up the rebound and slammed it into the cage, but the score did not count as the referee's whistle had blown after the first shot.

During the third period, the Malden team peppered the Governors' goal with shots, and Rolfe did a good job in letting only three get by him.

RESERVE PUCKSTERS WIN AS WYMAN TALLIES TWO GOALS

On February 15, the Governor Dummer second hockey team defeated the Brooks School second hockey team, 4 to 1, at South Byfield. This game was the second in the series between Brooks and Governor Dummer for the Brooks-Emerson-Governor Dummer Cup.

In the first period neither team was able to penetrate deeply into the opponents' territory, and as a result neither team was able to score until the closing minutes, when Brooks scored in a shuffle before the Governors' cage.

In the second period the Governors put on a burst of energy and scored two goals within a minute, the first being scored by Dicky Wyman, and the second by Harry Davy assisted by Jim Dodge.

During the last period the Governors scored twice more before the final whistle. Wyman scored on a shot from the blue line, and the other tally was made by Ricky Ferguson assisted by Howard Hill. Although Brooks tried many times to knot the count, but they were unable to break through the Governors' defense. The game ended with the Governors on top of a 4 to 1 score.

Governor Dummer's line-up was: Eastman, g; Sheffield, Capt. ld; Will, rd; Davy, lw; Dodge, c; Wyman, rw.

GOVERNORS LOSE TO EXETER
AS LAWLER STARS, 45 TO 30

On February 5, the Governor Dummer basketball team lost to Exeter Academy 45 to 30 in a game played in the Lang Gymnasium. Captain Russ Simons scored first for the Governors when he took the ball on a fast break, and scored under the hoop. Red Warner followed with a one-handed toss from the corner, and as the quarter ended, Mike Lawler swished one through from the center line. At the end of this period, the score was 8 to 6 in favor of the Governors.

As the second quarter opened, Don Mortimer passed to Warner for another basket. Then Mortimer evened an Exeter score with a one-hander from the foul line. Lawler tossed in another on a fast break. During this canto, Johnny Koslowski played a strong defensive game under the hoop. The scoring continued, and as the period closed, Lawler sank an angle shot to bring the score up to 16 to 18, in favor of Exeter.

The third quarter was marked by accurate shooting on the part of Exeter's stars, Stewart and Bowersox. During this session, Russ Simons and Red Warner left the game, and at the close of the period, Exeter had a nine-point lead.

During the fourth quarter, the Exeter men were thrown back on their heels by a determined Governors drive, but Exeter's lead was too great, and the game ended with the score 45 to 30.

The game was the best one played this year to date, and the team gave promise of many good performances to come.

GOVERNOR DUMMER FIVE WINS
OVER SALEM TEACHERS, 47 TO 41

On Saturday, February 12, the Governor Dummer basketball team defeated a strong aggregation from Salem Teachers' College at South Byfield, 47 to 41. The game was a close one, going into two overtime periods before the Governors finally won the verdict.

Salem Teachers' College opened the scoring, but the Governors soon caught up and forged ahead. The game was nip and tuck from then on with the Governors being just able to stay ahead of the visitors until the closing minutes of the fourth period when they evened the count.

The majority of the Governors' points were made on long shots during the first half of the game, but in the second half the team tried more plays and was able to sneak a man in under the basket every so often for a score.

The first overtime period was an exciting one with the lead switching back and forth from one team to the other. Mike Lawler kept the Governors in the game by dropping a couple of foul shots in the closing minutes of the period.

The second overtime was not so nerve-racking. The Governors took the lead within the first few seconds and the visitors were not able to score, except for one foul shot.

The Governors played well, with Mike Lawler and Johnny Koslowski leading the scoring with 19 and 10 points respectively. Don Mortimer and Red Warner played strongly on the defense, and Captain Simons played his usual commendable game, keeping the team together in some very exciting moments and also doing his share of the scoring.
